McSherrystown Gives $936 To Red Cross Fund

McSherrystown's Red Cross workers headed by the Rev. Fr. Patrick F. McGee this morning turned in $936.10 as that community's first contribution to the War Fund.

The McSherrystown report and other contributions received late Monday and this morning sent the current total up to $6,986.16, approximately 37 per cent of the county goal.

Father McGee told Red Cross officers that today's report is not final and that he expects McSherrystown's total donations to the War Fund to pass the $1,000 mark.

McSherrystown is the first community outside of Gettysburg from which contributions have been received but a telephone report from Littlestown this morning stated that the Red Cross committee there already has collected more than $1,600 with the campaign yet incomplete. This total is not included in the current amount.

Family Of 5, 3 In Service, Give To R.C.

Three brothers, all in the armed forces, one in North Africa and the other two in Army camps in this country, and their parents have contributed to the Red Cross War Relief fund, it was learned today.

The family is that of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Harness, Steinwehr avenue.

Private James Harness, serving in North Africa, Private Russell Harness, at Bowman's Field, Ky., and Private William Harness, Camp McCain, Miss., all have sent contributions to the Red Cross war drive. This morning the parents donated to the fund, making it a 100 per cent war-family contribution.

FARMERS MAY SECURE LOANS FOR CROP, FEED

Farmers in Adams county are asked to materially increase their acreage of food and other vital crops this season, according to E. M. Newton, Jr., acting regional manager of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan office, Baltimore, and for their convenience G. Marion Stambaugh, of the Farm Bureau here has been designated to receive applications for crop and feed loans.

"The farmers of America are faced with the greatest demand for food the world has ever seen and sufficient production will be had only if every individual farmer in each county contributes his share by increasing the acreage of vital crops. The goals which have been set by the department of Agriculture and county war boards must be met," he said.

Finance Production

Mr. Newton pointed out that the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan section of the Farm Credit Administration is cooperating by financing those farmers who are eligible, helping them to expand production thereby enabling them to meet and if possible, surpass the food production goals. He stated that farmers who lack the required security for loans from local banks but whose family labor and land could be put to fuller use in the war program if funds were available, can obtain crop or feed loans. These loans range from $10 to $400 depending upon the acreage or the quantity of livestock or poultry to be fed. The interest rate is 4 per cent per year, and loans obtained in the spring are due the following fall with the understanding that repayment will be made from the sale of the crop or livestock financed.

He reported that already a number of farmers in Adams county have obtained crop or feed loans, and that others who wish to apply should contact Mr. Stambaugh or a representative at Abbottstown at 1 p. m. on March 30, or 2:30 p. m. in the court house here the same day.

MAY ENLARGE "HOME GUARD"

Plans to increase the number of members of Company 1A of the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps Auxiliary, were discussed Monday evening at a meeting of the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion. C. Arthur Brame, commander of the Legion post and captain of the defense corps, said there are already "about 20" applicants seeking admission to the corps and that it can be extended to include 63 more residents of the county.

He said that additional members will be inducted at an organization meeting Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the armory. While official word as to the use of the armory by the company has not as yet been received, Brame said he expects the authorization to arrive in the very near future.

Persons seeking membership in the company, which will form Adams county's home guard in the event of an emergency, should report at the armory Friday evening, he stated. The company has 60 enlisted men and three officers.

Adjutant Paul Rohrbaugh reported that the membership in the post now totals 226, a slight increase over last year.

Thirty-five members attended the meeting at which Commander Brame presided.

Radio Service, Baker's Battery Service.

Feed Dealers To Gather Thursday

A meeting of all feed dealers in Adams and Franklin counties will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the court house here, Harrison F. Snyder, chairman of the Adams County War Board, announced today.

Speakers will come here from the state agricultural committee office at Harrisburg to explain shortages of vital ingredients of dairy and poultry feeds and the distribution problems involved.

TOWN COUNCIL REJECTS WATER PURCHASE PLAN

Gettysburg borough council by unanimous vote at a special meeting on Monday evening rejected the offer of John H. Ware, Jr., principal owner of the Gettysburg Water company, under which Gettysburg could have acquired ownership of the company after paying off a $554,000 bond issue in 40 years.

Councilmen said they took that action because they believed "the price asked is too high."

The action Monday evening was taken on the recommendation of Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer, who initiated the move to seek municipal ownership of the water company and who has been busy with investigations at Harrisburg since the state PUC and the Senate announced plans to probe local water rates and Mr. Ware's activities, respectively.

Pfeffer told the members of council Monday evening he did not believe council "should mortgage the soul of the community for the next 40 years" under the plan devised by Mr. Ware, particularly in view of the impending state probe of Mr. Ware's manipulations in other communities in the state.

Trying to "Stall" Probe

"We might look very foolish in the future if we should now enter into a 40-year contract with Mr. Ware—freezing present water rates, removing the water system here from the jurisdiction of the PUC and obligating the town to pay off a $554,000 bond issue—particularly when we have knowledge of what is in prospect at Harrisburg," the burgess asserted.

The burgess suggested that Mr. Ware may be using the fact that negotiations are pending here to "stall off" the impending PUC hearing on rates and urged that the offer be publicly rejected to clear the way for action at Harrisburg "even though it may mean that we can never again deal with Mr. Ware on the same basis in the future."

Legislation Looms

President Oyler agreed with the burgess that council should not continue to consider Mr. Ware's offer because it is "too high."

The burgess told council members that he has been informed a state Senate resolution asking an investigation of the procedure under which Ware's offer was made.

P.O. TO CLOSE FOR FUNERAL

Service at the Gettysburg post-office will be suspended Wednesday afternoon from 1:45 to 3:15 o'clock to permit the staff to attend the funeral rites to be conducted at 2 o'clock for Postmaster Charles A. Williams, who died suddenly Monday morning at his home.

Some of the employees will serve as active pallbearers and others will be honorary bearers for the postmaster whom they had planned to honor Monday evening at a testimonial banquet.

The service will be conducted at the Bender funeral home by the Rev. Austin A. Kelly, Oak Ridge, a friend of Mr. Williams for many years. Interment will be made with military honors in the National cemetery.

Assistant Postmaster George P. Black said that rural carriers will make their usual deliveries Wednesday and that the regular afternoon city delivery will be made although it probably will be delayed.

Members of the local camp of the United Spanish War Veterans have been urged by Commander George Rightmyer to attend the funeral of Mr. Williams, a member of the camp who served as a photographer for a battalion of Volunteer Engineers in Puerto Rico during the Spanish-American war.

Friends may call this evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home.

5,000 French Youth Defy Germans; Down 3 Planes

At the French Frontier in Switzerland, March 16 (AP)—Motorized French police led by German SS troopers deployed into the hills of Haute Savoie close to Lake Geneva today in a hunt for several thousand well-armed French youths who had defied a Nazi ultimatum to surrender.

All last night and today the police and trooper units rolled along the roads into the valleys and up into the hills but they did not appear so far to have made contact with the insurgents who were said to number at least 5,000.

The youths, rebellious against the German labor draft, were reported led by former French officers.

(London reports said the French bands were being bombed by German planes. Three of the planes were reported yesterday to have been shot down.)

Some of the youths were gradually trickling back to their homes, despite their earlier defiance, because they lacked food and had been persuaded by their parents that resistance now is futile.

British circles saw in the insurrection a clear sign that France was ready to play a part in any invasion, but they said they hoped the resistance was organized well enough to hide the fugitives until the hour struck for a general uprising.

The Algiers radio was heard in a broadcast addressed to the French partisans declaring "do not fear; it will not be long now; the hour of liberation is at hand."

Tass, Soviet News agency, in a Moscow broadcast recorded by the Soviet Radio Monitor, said Germany was speeding up evacuation of civilians from a large portion of the coast of France, with the civilians being marched inland under armed escort, as if they were prisoners of war.

LIGHTER TELLS LIONS TO PLAN GARDENS EARLY

"Now is the time to plan your garden, whether it be a tiny 'flower bed' garden or a more extensive farm garden," Richard C. Lighter, secretary of the county Victory Garden committee, told members of the Gettysburg Lions club at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening at Mrs. Smith's restaurant. "Victory gardens now are called 'existence' gardens in some parts of the country," he said.

The speaker emphasized that garden planning is one of the most important steps in the entire garden program if plantings are to be adequate for current needs with a moderate surplus for canning or drying and if seeds, time and effort are to be used most efficiently.

He described the program of the Gettysburg Victory Garden staff headed by George T. Raffensperger and said that neighborhood chairmen soon will be announced.

Lists "Golden" Foods

Predicting that gardening in many families this summer will take the place of outings, golf and fishing trips, Mr. Lighter displayed bulletins and charts that are available to amateur gardeners and urged the importance of proper fertilization and cultivation. He named tomatoes, carrots, beets, lettuce and string beans as "golden" foods that will be scarce next winter, that will take high point values to purchase and that should be given special attention in victory gardens.

President William A. Beales presided at the meeting with 26 Lions and guests in attendance. Clarence J. Waybright was presented with the Lions' key emblem in recognition of his success in securing new members for the club.

Elmer Schriver, an assistant chief air plane spotter for the local spotter station, asked clubmen to help fill daily shifts on the station from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

A meeting of the board of directors followed the club session.

April Ration Same As March

Washington, March 16 (AP)—The housewife's total of food ration points for April will be the same as it is in March—48 of them on the blue stamps lettered D, E and F in War Ration book No. 2.

In making that announcement late yesterday, the Office of Price Administration also said there will be one week of overlap, during which both the March and April stamps will be good.

This month's stamps—the blue ones lettered A, B and C—will be good until March 31, and the new series will be available for canned goods from March 25 through April 30, OPA said.

While urging consumers to budget their 48 ration points for April only where possible, OPA explained the overlapping week was to allow them to make "the best possible use" of whatever small denomination ration stamps they might have left at the end of the current month.

Oyler Takes Postmaster's Position Soon

Lawrence E. Oyler, Baltimore street, has been appointed acting postmaster at the Gettysburg post office and will assume his new duties as soon as a postal inspector comes here to supervise the official check-up of the post office accounts. This is considered a routine matter.

Mr. Oyler was recommended for the appointment to succeed the late Postmaster C. A. Williams when the latter planned to retire March 31st. The recommendation was made by a local committee of democrats to Senator Joseph F. Guffey who, in turn, sent the recommendation to President Roosevelt for final action.

Appointment of Mr. Oyler as the acting postmaster followed Mr. Williams' sudden death early Monday morning.

Post office officials here were notified that an inspector will come to Gettysburg to supervise the checking of accounts after which the office of Postmaster will be turned over to Mr. Oyler.

Under civil service regulations the acting postmaster will serve for six months. During that period an open examination will be held at which the appointee will be certified for the position if he meets the designated qualification.

30 More Volunteer For Spotter Duty

The number of members of the air raid spotter station in town was brought to 180 Monday evening when 30 additional volunteers offered their services. Twenty spotter who had previously expressed their desire to serve, but had not been fingerprinted or given identification cards, also were present at the meeting.

The spotters' session was held at the fire engine house with Lawrence M. Sheeds, sub-district head, and Richard C. Lighter, instructor, giving instructions in the proper methods of spotting.

Chief of Police Glenn Guise was in charge of fingerprinting.

New Nipponese Attack Opened By Air Assault

Allied Headquarters in Australia, March 16 (AP)—Hard on the heels of news that the Japanese were massing men and ships on their island bases northwest of Australia, Allied airmen lashed out suddenly in that area yesterday and blasted two troop-laden transports in a three-ship convoy bound for Dobo, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The threat implied in the new Japanese concentrations was driven home, meanwhile, by the greatest burst of enemy aerial activity in this theater in months—a 49-plane assault on Darwin, Australia, and a 15-plane raid on Oro bay, New Guinea.

Score 2 Direct Hits

In the attack on the convoy off enemy-occupied Dobo, in the Aroe islands about 500 miles north of Darwin, direct hits were scored on two of the ships by Allied bombers which roared in at masthead height, and several near hits were scored on the third vessel, the Allied communique said.

Long-range fighters which accompanied the bombers raked the transports from stem to stern with cannon and machinegun fire, causing heavy casualties to troops packed on the decks, the bulletin added.

The Japanese smash at Darwin, key Allied base on the northwest tip of Australia, met stiff resistance from spitfire fighters which rose to intercept them.

Down 14 Planes

The Allies announced they had shot two bombers and 12 fighters out of action and "so seriously damaged an additional three fighters and two bombers that they probably failed to reach their base."

Four Allied planes were reported lost in the action, but the pilots of two were saved, said the noon bulletin. It added that the raid caused "only slight damage and casualties."

There was some speculation, meanwhile, over the whereabouts of the remains of the enemy convoy of eight ships which had been heavily attacked for two successive days straight as it approached Wewak, in northeastern New Guinea. Hits had been reported on four cargo ships and one destroyer, but B-17's which went out again in search of the convoy yesterday found no shipping whatever in that area, a headquarters spokesman said.

Other Activities

In other far flung Allied aerial activity two enemy merchant vessels of 2,000 or 3,000 tons were attacked by heavy bombers in Bitzjaroe bay in Dutch New Guinea, but results were not observed.

In the Banda Sea, west of the scene of the attack on the three transports, one medium bomber attacked and damaged a Japanese coastal schooner.

In New Britain a Catalina made a night attack on the Gasmata airdrome, followed by an attack on the building area by a B-17.

WORLD POLICE QUESTION STIRS CAPITOL HILL

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington, March 16 (AP)—A storm of controversy mounted on Capitol Hill today as Senators chose sides for and against a proposal to initiate a move for a post-war world police force.
Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters the unprecedented step would "precipitate bitterness we might better avoid at this time by confining ourselves to expressions of broad principles," while Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) declared he would oppose it "with all the fight I have in me."
On the other side of the picture, sponsors of a resolution to have the United States take the leadership in a broad cooperating program for war and peace were encouraged by an assertion from Senator Connally (D-Texas) that he favored establishment of an agency, backed by military force, to settle disputes between nations and "prevent aggression and conquest."
Disagree on Details
Connally, chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, made it clear that he wasn't committed to the language of a resolution drafted by Senators Hatch (D-N.M.), Burton (R-Ohio), Hill (D-Ala.), and Ball (R-Minn.) to initiate the setting up of such an agency, but that he would support such a step, implemented by "military and naval sanctions to enforce action by the international body."
He indicated opposition to provisions to coordinate United Nations military and economic resources in the prosecution of the war, and establishing temporary administrations for Axis-controlled areas as they are occupied by the United States.

PARTIES DRAWN FOR TAX FIGHT

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Party lines were drawn up in the House of Representatives today for a pay-as-you-go tax battle which may echo in 1944 political campaigns.
Republican leaders were lined up for and democrats against the Ruml plan to skip an entire income tax year, with both sides predicting a finish fight on the floor.
Democratic leaders met and decided to support a tax collection system, without any abatement, as approved by the Ways and Means committee.

Support Ruml
The republican steering committee already had decided to go all out for the pay-as-you-go plan advanced by Beardsley Ruml, New York banker, and embraced in modified form in a bill by Rep. Carlson (R-Kans.). A conference of republican House members has been set for Thursday to align party strength behind the abatement proposal.
The Ways and Means committee probably will report formally today a bill carrying out its previously approved plan making pay-as-you-go optional with each taxpayer, but with no tax cancellation; and imposing, effective July 1, a 20 percent withholding levy against the taxable portions of wages and salaries, to be applied to actual taxes as now computed.

Bill Would Revise N. J. Constitution

Trenton, N. J., March 16 (AP)—A bill to speed revision of the state constitution was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Assemblyman Milton A. Feller (R-Union).
The measure provides for submission to the people at the general election next November of the question of whether the 1944 Legislature should be authorized to agree upon a revised constitution.
A resolution to amend the constitution so as to lower the minimum age for voters from 21 to 18 was introduced by Senator Harold A. Pierson (R-Morris).
Among assembly bills:
Howell (R-Cumberland)—Amends workmen's compensation act to provide an effective and permissive system of compensation for silicosis and asbestosis, both occupational diseases; provides an extra registration day before July 1 of this year for permanent registration of voters.

Farmhand Dies In Roadhouse Fire

Somerville, N. J., March 16 (AP)—An unidentified farmhand was burned to death last night as fire damaged the southwest wing of three towers, Route 31 roadhouse adjacent to the South Somerville sub-depot of the Army Quartermaster corps.
Hillsborough township policemen Wilbur Gerlich and Carl Rehder said damage was about $3,000. They said the farmhand was trapped in his room, and efforts of Herman Ertischweiger, son of the owner, Hans Ertischweiger, and two lodgers to rescue him failed.

RE-INDICTED ON FRAUD COUNT

Uniontown, Pa., March 16 (AP)—Reconvincing after a week's recess, the Fayette county special grand jury indicted the three county commissioners a second time and Attorney W. Brown Higbee yesterday.

One of six true bills charged that Commissioners John W. Rankin, Arthur Higinbotham and Michael Karolick and Higbee "unlawfully, falsely and maliciously conspired to cheat and defraud the county of a $6,000 fee, which Higbee returned last week.

The money had been paid Higbee in connection with settlement of a commonwealth claim against the county. Earlier indictments against the commissioners and former state senator Anthony J. Cavalcante charged similar offenses in connection with a $10,000 fee paid Cavalcante.

Commissioners Rankin and Higinbotham also were charged with misdemeanor in office in other county transactions.

REDS NEARING SMOLENSK WITH FOUR BIG DRIVES

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, March 16 (AP)—The Red Army is continuing to smash westward toward Smolensk, the German key base of the central front, and also appeared today to have established a strong line east of Khar'kov after announcing the loss of the Ukraine city recaptured only February 16.

Four spearheads are aimed at Smolensk from an arc swinging northwestward from Vyazma and one of the newest and most spectacular successes was that reported by a column surging forward from Kholm-Zhirkovsky, west of the upper Dnieper river.

The troops pushed six miles westward, chasing the remnants of two German divisions, front line dispatches indicated.

The Soviet noon communique declared that more towns fell to the Russians west and southwest of Vyazma and Red Star, the Army newspaper, in commenting on the swift push toward Smolensk said that "our troops already have advanced several dozen kilometers west of Vyazma." (This may be upwards of 20 miles).

Khar'kov Loss Unexplained
There was no official Soviet explanation for the evacuation of Khar'kov but recent Russian communiques and reports had stressed continued heavy German tank and infantry attacks with fresh reserves launched against the city.

West of Rostov, the Russians turned heavy artillery fire on the enemy while scouts penetrated to the rear of the German lines and blew up railway tracks. Big, long range guns were reported to be engaged in the duel in this area.

South of Lake Ilmen a junction was captured by Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's troops despite stiff resistance, it was said.

Classical Society Offers Latin Medal

The Gettysburg college chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, national honorary classical fraternity, announces that it will award a Virgilian medal to each fourth-year Latin student in Gettysburg high school who has maintained an "A" average in the study of Latin in his senior year. The award is to take the place of a $5 prize which the fraternity heretofore has given to the winner of a special Latin examination given all fourth-year Latin students in the county. The examination was dropped this year because of transportation difficulties.
Dr. John G. Glenn and Prof. Frederick Shaffer are the sponsors of the fraternity.

Civil Patrol Plane Forced Down At Sea

Washington, March 16 (AP)—The Civil Air Patrol headquarters here disclosed today that one of its planes was forced down on the Atlantic ocean yesterday afternoon. The pilot and observer were rescued uninjured.

Rudy Charlow, 29, Vineland, N. J., pilot, and Floyd E. Egenweller, 30, East Mauch Chunk, Pa., observer, radioed a distress signal before the plane crashed about five miles off shore. They escaped from the craft with the aid of rubber life suits and one-man rafts, and were picked up shortly afterwards by a Coast Guard boat dispatched to their distress signal.

Graduates From Machinist's School

He enlisted in the Marines June 18, 1942, and was sent to Parris Island, South Carolina, for indoctrinal training before being transferred to the Naval Air Technical Training center at Jacksonville.

Odbert is now qualified to repair and keep airplane engines in top working order and will probably see service with a Marine Aviation Detachment.

Jim Jeffries Rated By Morgan As Greatest Heavyweight Boxer In History

JACK JOHNSON IS SELECTION OF JOHNSON

By DILLON GRAHAM

New York, March 16 (AP)—Dumb Dan Morgan was heard to give a derisive snort when the scrambled syntax boys along Busted Beak Boulevard were gabbing about Jimmy Johnson's recent literary effort, a discussion of our heavyweight champions. Dan's expressive outburst came when it was remarked that Jimmy had selected Jack Johnson as the greatest of the heavyweights.

The reasons for the snort were three-fold: To assert his contempt for the choice, to gain attention and the floor, and to have the conversational ball passed to him. Once in possession, Dan is one of the slipperiest broken field runners, on a wet or dry field, seen in these parts in years. In fact, there is no landmark on Broadway who remembers anyone ever stopping him, once Dan cleared his throat and got off to a running start.

"Jack never saw the day," Dumb Dan solemnly announced, "that he could whip old Jeff."

"No, siree, not in a million Sundays. There's never been a champion like Jim Jeffries."

"He was fast and he hit hard and he couldn't be hurt and, too, he was a pretty fair boxer."

"I'll agree that Johnson was a great fighter, the greatest defensive fighter we've ever had, but better than Jeff? No."

"Why, I'd say we've had—the business of thinking and finger counting—we've had maybe five champions I'd rate as better all around men than Johnson."

Dempsey Third

"They'd be, after Jeffries, first, Corbett. Now there was a dandy man, swift as light, half the time you couldn't see him, let alone hit him. One of the best boxers we've had. And I'd put Jack Dempsey right up there after Corbett. He could hit and he could take it, he had a weaving style that bothered a lot of fellows, and he was a better boxer than most people gave him credit for being."

"And after Dempsey would come Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons. I think Fitz was the hardest one-punch hitter of them all. Gosh, how he could belt. Not many got up off the floor if Fitz ever got a good clean swipe at 'em."

"John L. Sullivan would have beaten Johnson, too. John L. was a fairly good boxer and a straight right hand puncher."

"Jack wouldn't have been a push-over for any of them. He'd have put up a good fight, but I can't see him beating any of those five."

"Jeffries, though, was tops of them all. He was not only a big man and heavy, 215 pounds, but it was solid flesh. You couldn't hurt him. And he was fast as a streak."

"Did you know that as champions, Jeffries gave both Corbett and Fitz two chances at his title and beat them each time? There he was taking on perhaps the hardest puncher boxing has known, Fitz, and the fastest and most scientific boxer, Corbett, and whipping 'em. You couldn't ask any more of a champion."

"Jeffries would have combined boxing and hitting to beat Dempsey. Jack couldn't have hurt him. Did you know that Jeff was a turned-around southpaw?"

Right behind Johnson, in Dan's opinion, would come Joe Louis. Morgan is an old-time fighter and manager. He had some top-flight battlers and champions two decades ago. Today he is regarded as a student of styles and a chap who is pretty good at picking winners in the ring. He's often hired to teach some fancy pointers to promising youngsters.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 16 (AP)—This one ought to start a few arguments on the dull days. . . . After testing the Third Battalion at the Del Monte, California, Navy Pre-Flight school, Lieut. William Neufeld, head of the school's testing and measuring department, has concluded that boys from west of the Mississippi river are better physical specimens than the easterners. . . . The Del Monte battalion (60 per cent Californians) had an average physical fitness index of 68, as compared to 66.7 for the first four battalions of the Chapel Hill, North Carolina, Pre-Flight school. The standard index is 60—but don't ask us just what that means.

They seemed to see something familiar and eventually recalled that when Blakeslee was breaking middle distance running records for the Southern Athletic club back in 1907-08, Big Monk was a teammate who specialized in busting sprint records. . . . They hadn't seen each other since those days.

DEPT. OF CORRECTION

The report recently carried here that the former Alabama footballer, Holt Rast, is serving with Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle in Africa apparently belongs in the same class with the stories you may have heard about Barney Ross' death, Dixie Howell's decoration for heroism and Bob McLeod's getting shot up. . . . It ain't true. . . . A letter from Holt Rast, Sr., explains that while his son landed in northern Africa with the American invasion forces, he belonged to the Engineer Corps and there has been no word of Holt's transfer to the Air Corps.

SO THEY SAY

None of these items guaranteed: Story from Boston is that the Suffolk Downs race track may be sold soon for a million bucks. . . . Auburn alumni are plugging for Pete Cawthon to succeed Jack Meagher as football coach. . . . Fort Knox, Kentucky, which was expected to furnish service opposition for several Big Ten schools, has been ordered to drop all but intra-mural football. Well, Head-Man Joe Bach has taken a high school coaching job.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

G. A. Falzer, Newark (N.J.) Sunday Call: "Bob Rolfe, Dartmouth-bred coach of Yale, viewed the basketball season with mixed emotions. He saw his own alma mammy win the championship and his Yale charges finish last. Another year like that and Red Rolfe may become Gray Rolfe. His nerves were not jarred half as much when he played third base for the Yankees."

SERVICE DEPT.

Soldier Buck, old-time Louisville fighter who was licked by such guys as Young Stribling and Harry Greb, has been discharged from the Army because of his age (about 43) and is back on the job as foreman in a defense plant. He's a World War One veteran and has a son in the service. . . . World Series preview: The Norfolk Naval Training station ball team has bought uniforms similar to the Yankees' this year, and its bitter rival from the Naval Air station will wear Cards' style suits. . . . Corp. Thomas Alexion of Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, a crack ballplayer, turned his talents to boxing this winter and won his regional lightweight title. Now he's heard that Willie Hoppe is going to visit the post so he's trying for the billiards title, too, so he can play against the old master.

"OVER THE TOP"

Pittsburgh, March 16 (AP)—Pittsburgh went "over the top" with its drive for Red Cross funds when a total of $2,266,855 was reported raised last night at a dinner attended by almost 1,000 volunteer workers. The Steel City thus became the first to exceed a $2,000,000 quota, field director James Stewart of the Red Cross said. Pittsburgh's quota was $2,250,000.

LINCOLN FIVE SCORING LED BY R. SHANER

Captain Dick Shaner of the Lincoln school basketball team led his squad in scoring during the past season according to records compiled by Coach Don Ulrich.

Shaner netted 79 points in eight games on 32 goals and 15 foul conversions in 31 attempts.

Lincoln school won six of eight games. Victories were scored of Franklin township, twice, the St. Francis parochial school, twice, the Gettysburg high school sophomores and the freshman jayvees. The defeats were sustained at the hands of the freshmen and Franklin township.

Lost to the Lincoln squad next year will be Shaner, Howard, C. Rodgers, F. Rodgers, T. McLaughlin, D. Sheffer, J. Moser, R. Reading, D. Stultz and J. Roberts.

Training Camp Briefs

(By The Associated Press)

Bloomington, Ind., March 16—Pitcher Bucky Walters is the first casualty of the present baseball campaign. The top-flight hurler of the Cincinnati Reds attempted to clear a high hurdle and was spilled when he failed. X-rays showed he suffered a bruised heel and a slightly sprained left ankle. He will be idle five days.

Chicago—Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox, who recently underwent an operation, is expected tomorrow from the west coast. The welcoming committee will take the convalescent skipper to Comiskey Park where President Grace Comiskey will be hostess at a corned beef and cabbage party in the press room.

Cape Girardeau, Mo.—Chet Laabs, outfielder, joined the St. Louis Browns today at about the same time Manager Luke Sewell was notified that relief pitcher George Caster had agreed to terms. Catchers Rick Ferrell and Frankie Hayes remain unsigned along with eight other Browns.

Bear Mountain, N. Y.—Billy Herman, veteran second baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, appeared at third base for the second consecutive day with Albie Glossop, recently acquired from the Philadelphia Phillies, cavoring at the Keystone.

Pittsburgh—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced the signing of Rookie Infielder James Cullinane and the purchase of five players from the Harrisburg Class C Interstate league. They are Shortstop Frank Zak, Pitchers Alfred Jarlett, Steve Korps and Alf Howard and Infielder Pete Castiglione. Zak and Jarlett will report Thursday at Muncie, Indiana, but the others are in the armed forces.

Lakewood, N. J.—City officials distributed posters with the picture of Catcher Hank Danning on them as a welcome for the New York Giants. Too late they discovered that Danning is at home awaiting induction. Manager Mel Ott intends to use Babe Barna, husky outfielder, on first base if Johnny Mize also is induced.

Lafayette, Ind.—Lou Boudreau, young boss of the Cleveland Indians, says Ott Denning, reserve catcher who played first base for Minneapolis in the Minors, will be the club's first sacker since Les Fleming is staying out for war work. Outfielder Jeff Heath has returned the Indians second contract unsigned.

Medford, Mass.—Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox, apparently needs the spring drill more than any of his athletes. He reported here far above his best playing weight of 190 pounds.

Evansville, Ind.—Manager Steve O'Neil has slapped on a midnight curfew and prohibited the playing of poker among the members of the Detroit Tigers. Bridge, rummy and pitch will be permitted for small stakes.

Philly Fighters In Tourney Lead

New York, March 16 (AP)—Two knockouts and six victories by decisions in the first round of the eastern Golden Gloves amateur boxing championships gave the Philadelphia team a tremendous advantage as the youthful sluggers headed into the semifinals tonight.

The Philadelphians qualified all eight members of their team for tonight's frays in the first round matches fought last night before 3,979 spectators in Ridgewood Grove. Sgt. Alf Lebreque of the Philadelphia squad, registered the fastest knockout of the evening, putting Flem Williams of Trenton, N. J., to sleep with a left hook to the stomach at 1:48 of the first round.

WEST SHORE TO HAVE 5 TEAMS

A five-team West Shore high school basketball league will play during the 1943-44 season, it was decided at a league meeting Monday night held in Lemoyne high school. New Cumberland high asked to withdraw from the league and the request was granted by the circuit.

However, it was expected that New Cumberland would have a court team in action, and also that at least some, if not all, of the West Shore league teams would play New Cumberland in non-league games next winter.

Karl W. Etshied, of Lemoyne, was elected league president to succeed Robert Noll, formerly of Biglerville, who has left the teaching profession. Eugene Wingert of Enola was elected vice-president and Fred Bower of Camp Hill was chosen secretary-treasurer.

A schedule largely paralleling the past season's card was drawn up and approved. The same number of games is expected to be played. The meeting was a special session called recently when a deadlock developed over the issue of continuing the league or disbanding.

Biglerville high, which will participate in the loop again next year, was represented by Prof. L. V. Stock, Coach Ellis McCracken and Edgar Benner.

PHILLIES TRY HOT WATER FOR CONDITIONING

BY TED MEIER

Hershey, Pa., March 16 (AP)—The National league Phillies are going to drink a lot of hot water this year—and like it.

So spoke Harold Anson Bruce today in explaining his plans to put the Phils in the best possible physical condition for Manager Bucky Harris and new owner William D. Cox.

"By next week when all my equipment arrives," asserted Bruce, internationally known former Olympic track coach, "I will recommend to the players they drink hot water before, during and after practice. That will help the system get rid of poisons and make them feel better. It won't taste good, but the boys will like it after they see how much better they feel."

Speed, Stamina

Bruce signed a one-year contract after Cox, a trackman in his undergraduate days at New York university and Yale, urged Harris to give a fair trial to a training plan to develop speed and the ability to stand up under extreme fatigue.

The Phils got their first taste of the new program yesterday as they opened spring training. They listened to Harris urge them to cooperate in the innovation, then went through a half hour drill of warm-ups (running), calisthenics and ball tossing.

"That was nothing," Bruce said. "I plan to lengthen each workout, especially the warmups period. I intend to keep individual records and weigh each man before practice and as he comes in afterwards. As I get to know each individual, I may prescribe separate treatment."

11 Players Report

"I have already told them not to hesitate to call on me no matter what the hour of night or day. You are going to see a world of difference in these fellows after six weeks."

Eleven players worked out yesterday—Player Coach Chuck Klein, Infielders Merrill May and Danny Murtaugh; Catcher Tommy Livingston; Outfielder Danny Litwiler; and Pitchers Si Johnson, Johnny Podgajny, Andy Laphuska, Frank Seward, Johnny Miller and Dale Mathewson.

Rookie Pitcher Bill Webb, of Atlanta, veteran twirler Walter Beck, Outfielder Ron Northey and First Baseman Dahlgren were due today. Pitcher Charlie Fuchs, obtained from Detroit on waivers, is not expected for several days.

West Point, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, making a brief visit to the U. S. Military Academy, watched the Brooklyn Dodgers in their first drill.

The Dodgers professed themselves impressed. Mme. Chiang didn't say.

EXPECT FRENCH UNITS TO UNITE AGAINST ENEMY

London, March 16 (AP)—General Charles De Gaulle summoned his fighting French national committee to a special session today for quick consideration of General Henri Giraud's invitation to discuss details for the union of all French forces now opposing the Axis powers.

It was expected an announcement concerning the fighting French answer would be forthcoming at the end of the meeting, but De Gaulle spokesmen declined to make any comment beyond their assertion last night that Giraud's action was "encouraging."

The invitation followed swiftly a broadcast address by Gen. Giraud Sunday in which he emphasized the need for such a union, embraced the principles of the Atlantic Charter and promised to abolish all Vichy legislation in North Africa.

See Quick Agreement

The address won Gen. De Gaulle's endorsement and political observers predicted there would be a quick settlement, aided by Gen. Georges Catroux, fighting French delegate—general to Syria, through whom Gen. Giraud addressed his invitation.

"The most for unity of all Frenchmen of good will has come," Gen. Giraud wrote in this message. "I am ready to welcome De Gaulle to give this union concrete form. I expressed the principles governing my conduct and there should now be no misunderstanding between us."

(In London, a spokesman for the fighting French called the Giraud invitation "encouraging," but De Gaulle himself withheld comment pending receipt of the message through Catroux.)

LOOKING AROUND

By DON BREAM
Sports Editor

One of the most popular questions around here today is why wasn't a more central site selected for the Gettysburg-Hazleton game tonight?

Local officials could do nothing about securing a floor outside of the District 11 area. District 11, according to PIAA rules, was granted the right this year to have its representative play its first inter-district game within the confines of District 11. In playing at Allentown District 11 representatives gained the closest court in District 11 to Gettysburg.

Gettysburg high school closed at noon today in order to allow students and faculty members to follow the Maroon quintet to Allentown.

It's a long time before the next basketball season rolls around but already dopesters are selecting Gettysburg, Hanover and Mechanicsburg as the strongest teams for the 1944 South Penn campaign.

The Forney-men lose Sachs, Boehner, Wickerham, Spahr and Fissel from the varsity but will have Fair, March, Ogden, Culp, Moser, Utech, Kitzmiller and McLaughlin remaining from the first string squad.

Mechanicsburg loses Sadler and Westfall, forwards, and Dougherty, guard. Jeb Stewart is scheduled to return but may be in the armed forces by next year. He passed his 18th birthday last November.

Hanover will lose Sebert and Varner, forwards; Brady, sub center, and Carr and Walters, sub guards. Coach Ealy will have remaining Diviny, center; Downes and Gross, guards, and Yost and Goodfellow from the reserves.

LOWER MERION SEEKS 3RD TITLE

Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—Bill Anderson's Lower Merion high school stars resume their drive for their third straight PIAA basketball title tonight, tackling Chester in Penn's Palestra in a game for the District 1 title.

The encounter is one of six scheduled in the PIAA eliminations. Lower Merion, perennial District 1 leader, is heavily favored.

Milton, surprise victor over Shammokin, will line up against Sayre at Williamsport for the District 4 crown. The other games on the list are inter-district.

Hazleton, District 11 winner, and Gettysburg, District 3, play at Allentown; Berwick, District 2 and Clarks Summit, District 12, at Bloomsburg; Johnstown, District 6, and Conemaugh Township, District 5, at Johnstown; and Bradford, District 9, and Farrell, District 10, at Sharon.

Only two teams now holding district titles will not play tonight. Scott high of North Braddock, District 7 champion, and Westinghouse, of Pittsburgh, District 8 titlist, have byes in the opening inter-district round. The District 1 and 4 champions also will have first-round byes.

Savold Flattens Marshall In Second

Kansas City, March 16 (AP)—Lee Savold, Paterson (N. J.) heavyweight, kept up his knockout-a-month pace in midwestern rings last night by flattening Jack Marshall of Chicago in 31 seconds of the second stanza of a scheduled ten-round bout at Municipal auditorium.

Savold, who went west in January after several eastern reverses, man-handled Marshall in the first round, flooring him once for a count of eight. In the second, Savold landed with a whaling right that apparently lit somewhere between the Thirtieth and Fourteenth street entrances to the auditorium. That ended the fight.

I LICKED MY CONSTIPATION

Of course, it wasn't due to anything organically wrong with me. It was just ordinary constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in the diet.

A dose of some medicinal laxative gives only temporary relief for such constipation. You got to find something that gets at the cause and corrects it. I found just that—in KELLGOS'S ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN is a wonderful-tasting breakfast cereal and a swell way to start the morning. Eat it regularly, drink plenty of water and—if your constipation's like mine—you'll "Join the Regulars, too!" ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Michigan.

THE JEEP
(American Jeeps are being used in England for spring plowing.)
Rough and rugged little jeep.
Built for service under fire.
Climbing roads however steep.
Pushing on through mud and mire.
Carrying generals to and fro.
Bringing back some wounded boy.
Now to gentler work you go.
Work your driver should enjoy.
Rough and rugged little jeep.
When the springtime comes again
Plow the furrows straight and deep
For the autumn's golden grain.
Though for battle you were made
And your sides are thickly steeled,
Now you draw a kinder blade
Over many an English field.
Rough and rugged little jeep.
When the victory is won
And peace is ours to keep
And this dreadful war is done,
This forevermore we ask
When the spring returns again
You shall know no heavier task
Than to plow the field for grain.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams
DAWN AND THE AWAKENING
After the darkness—dawn! And then the awakening. Everything that has been so still and motionless begins to stir. Vehicles in the streets, people along the walks. Crowds gathering, trains moving, streams of folk, in country, and city, going to their toil of the day, activity everywhere.
With the return of Spring, this dawn and the early morning awakening seem to grow in beauty. The old songsters join this dawn and their mellow tones vibrate among the tightened buds, soon themselves to give forth to this dawn and awakening, and soon to spread their perfume to the winds to be carried far and wide.
How anxiously those who are ill await the dawn. With it seems to come so much of peace and comfort, the very sunlight being imbued with touches of divine understanding. The sleepless night is soon forgotten. With this awakening strength revives.
I have watched the dawn among the mountains, beside the sea, and while hidden away in a cabin in the midst of the forest—and in each place there is that same feeling of warmth that comes to the heart, like the echo of a prayer.
What a dawn and what an awakening when a man suddenly becomes conscious that he is eternally akin to the breath of every child, to the heart movement of every human being, to the color that touches every phase of nature, and to the immortal strains of every sound of music which ever pervades the atmosphere of the earth!
How the dawn refreshes the body, cleanses the mind, and sweeps out the heart. And with this process completed, how anxious we become to carry out the work of the day, to become useful, and to render efficient service. What an awakening to our sense of privilege!
The first book given to the world by dear old John Burroughs, was called "Wake-Robin." He gave the manuscript to Walt Whitman to read and to comment upon. When Whitman returned it to Burroughs, he asked him what "Wake-Robin" meant. Burroughs replied: "It is a Spring flower. When it blooms, the birds are sure to be returning from the south." "Then that is exactly the right name for your book," replied Whitman, "it brings back the birds from the south in the heart of the reader."
When beauty stirs in the heart, something very wonderful is about to be born. Dawn is at hand. The awakening follows!
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "This Food."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Murder! Adams county will likely have another murder trial and the facts of the case are these:

In January Emanuel Monn and Henry Heist had been living in a hut in the mountain near the old Russell mine, about four miles from Fairfield. They were wood choppers. Monn's relatives live just over the line in Franklin county and Heist belonged to Hamiltonban twp. In the first week in February Heist appeared in Fairfield alone. Questioned as to Monn's whereabouts, he made contradictory answers. This aroused some slight suspicion but the deep snow on the mountain prevented any investigation. Finally Heist sold an axe that was recognized as the property of Monn, and, when asked concerning it, he is reported to have responded to the effect that Monn would never want it again.

Meanwhile the snow melted and acting under instructions of District Attorney Duncan, who was notified of the matter, on Saturday Constable Henry Peters organized a party and started on Sunday morning to search the mountain near the cabin for traces of the missing Monn. At this point Heist, who had remained around Fairfield until Saturday, disappears. No suspicious marks were visible in the cabin.

About three-fourths of a mile from the hut, the party came upon a pile of stones beside the huge trunk of a fallen tree. It had a suspicious appearance. The tree was pushed back, a mass of brush removed and a shoe was seen protruding from under the stones. The missing man was found. He had been murdered. There were four wounds on the body, any one of which would have caused death. Squire Musselman impaneled a jury consisting of Robert Watson, foreman; C. A. Spangler, P. S. Harbaugh, Aaron Musselman, Chas. J. Sefton and G. E. Brown, and they found the deceased came to his death at the hands of Heist.

As usual, there was a "woman in the case," and jealousy is assigned as the cause. Heist was aged 30 and Monn 18.
Heist is an old offender having served at least one term in the penitentiary and being well known to the authorities of Franklin as a bad man.

450,000 Miners Will Strike If $2 Increase Is Denied

LEWIS ORDERS NEW CONTRACT BY APRIL 1ST

New York, March 16 (AP)—John L. Lewis says that unless northern soft coal operators negotiate a pact with the United Mine Workers by March 31 granting wage increases to 450,000 miners the men will not report for work April 1.

In reply to the operators' flat rejection of the union's major demands for a new contract supplanting the one expiring March 31, the UMW president told the operators yesterday at a joint wage conference: "If the miners don't get a contract by March 31 the responsibility will not be the mine workers', and if the contract runs out because you will not negotiate with them, the responsibility will rely upon you."

"It is a safe assumption that without a negotiated contract, the miners will not trespass upon your property on the first and second of April."

Asks $2 Boost

Replying to Lewis' talk and for the second time rejecting the union's major demands, Charles O'Neill, president of the northern group, proposed that each side appoint a six man committee to begin negotiations immediately in closed sessions. The matter will be considered today.

In denouncing the operators for refusing to accept the union's major demands for a $2 basic daily wage increase and an $8-a-day blanket minimum in place of the present $7-a-day basic rate, Lewis asserted: "A million dollars a month of inflationary profit is going back to industry while you operators sit in placid contentment while your spokesmen take such a strange position—a position bound to create resentment among the men who man this industry, and among the workers in other industries who know their rights are being held from them."

As usual, there was a "woman in the case," and jealousy is assigned as the cause. Heist was aged 30 and Monn 18.

Flashes of Life

OLD HOME WEEK
Oakland, Calif. (AP)—Sailor Fred Clays, 19, a long way from his Arlington, Virginia, home, was lonesome, so he lined up for a movie.

A chief petty officer in the ticket line ahead of him looked familiar. Fred yelled. His father, Maurice Clays, 42, turned in surprise; they'd thought each other thousands of miles apart.

TWO-BITS RETIRES
Medford, Ore. (AP)—Two-Bits, the cliff-jumping fox terrier, is retiring to the farm.

He nose-dived over an 800-foot cliff in January, and his master gave him up for dead. Ten days later the dog, who had landed in a snowbank, struggled home, tail wagging.

Last week he'd recovered sufficiently to dive again. This time there was no snow on the rocks below—but his master, William Ziegler, hopefully searched for several days, and found the dog.

Two-Bits was badly bruised again. Ziegler said he'd send him to a farm to break him of his dangerous habit.

San Francisco (AP)—"Say," said the stranger, "where do I file my income tax?"

Fred Campodonico, at his cigar counter in the lobby, pointed.

"Right there," he replied.

"Well, maybe so, but I just can't find it."

"Okay, I'll take you in..." and he did—although he's blind.

Wouldn't Fight For U.S. Even If Invaded

Seranton, Pa., March 16 (AP)—A statement attributed by the government to George Tichy, 30, of Port Griffith, said Tichy would not fight for this country "even if it were invaded."

It was read in court, and Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson sentenced Tichy to five years in a federal penitentiary for violating the Selective Service Act. He pleaded guilty.

The FBI said Tichy described himself as a former secretary of the Socialist party for Luzerne county.

Youth Sentenced From 70-140 Years

Pittsburgh, March 16 (AP)—James E. Collins would have to live to be 164 years to serve the full time to which he was sentenced yesterday, but he would be eligible to parole at the age of 94.

Collins, 24, pleaded guilty to 20 crimes including 18 purse-snatchings, one of which so shocked the victim that she lost her speech. The young man, paroled from the county workhouse last June, was given 70 to 140 years in Western penitentiary.

U.S. PUSHES OPA TIRE CASE

Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—The government called new witnesses today in its effort to convict Louis L. Malickson of Philadelphia as the leader of a ring alleged to have disposed of more than 5,000 automobile tires in violation of OPA regulations.

Malickson is on trial in federal court with William B. Hartenstein, of Pottstown, described by government attorneys as a minor figure in the ring. They were among 105 persons indicted a month ago in connection with the group's operations. Thirty-three others have pleaded guilty and 26 have been sentenced.

A. A. Anders, manager of Anders-Jervis Co., Philadelphia automobile dealers, testified yesterday that Malickson misrepresented Hartenstein as an automobile dealer, to whom the sales were permitted under OPA rules. He sold Hartenstein 80 tires Anders testified.

The government charges that Malickson and Hartenstein resold the tires at prices far above OPA ceilings.

NO CHANGE IN RELIEF SYSTEM AT THIS TIME

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)—Proposed shifting of relief administration from the state to counties has been delayed at least a year.

Governor Martin told a press conference the transfer could not be made now even if the current legislative session authorizes the change which he suggested as an economy move.

Most counties already have made up their budgets for this year, he said, "and it would not be fair to make the change under such conditions."

Martin previously said the legislature should decide when the transfer should be made so counties could rearrange their finances. His plan proposed continued payment by the state of most of the cost.

Ask Repeal of Law
In another relief development the State Board of Public Assistance in a report to the assembly asked for repeal of a law requiring relief families to buy at least a pint of milk a day for each child.

This act has proved to be both costly and unsound," the board said. It has cost the state $2,291,000 since its enactment in 1939, the report added, and 39 county Boards of Assistance have condemned it "on the basis of local experience and on a wide variety of grounds."

The board also recommended legislation to enable the Assistance department to waive the present five-year resident requirements for old age assistance applicants for persons residing in the state one year and coming from states having reciprocal agreements with the commonwealth.

Examinations were graded by Donald H. Kent, associate state historian; Miss Dorothy K. Critz, dean of girls, Pottsville high school, and a DAR chapter regent; Mrs. Clayton E. Bilheimer, state chairman of the DAR Good Citizenship Pilgrimage, Gettysburg.

N. J. Asked To Ease Rules On Child Labor

Trenton, N. J., March 16 (AP)—Easing of work hour restrictions to permit teen-age youngsters to work up to 10 hours a day on farms was urged yesterday by Oscar J. Hunt of Swedesboro, president of the New Jersey Cannery association.

Hunt, appearing at a meeting of the agricultural committees of the Senate and Assembly and the New Jersey agricultural labor committee, said south Jersey growers of asparagus and tomatoes would need "a lot of labor in a hurry" during the harvesting season, and asked that 10 hours a day and 60 hours a week be made the maximum, providing that no one should work more than 21 days on such a schedule during any one crop harvesting season.

GIRL AWARDED $100 DAR PRIZE

Rose Marie Laros, Overbrook high school, Philadelphia, was awarded third honorable mention.

NEW ACT WOULD CLOSE ALL BARS 2 HRS. EARLIER

Harrisburg, March 16 (AP)—Liquor-selling establishments would be required to close at midnight instead of 2 a. m. under a bill presented in the House by Reps. Albert Foor (R-Bedford) and P. E. Wright (D-Greene).

The measure was one of the 220 introduced to beat the House deadline last midnight on introduction of bills. Speaker Ira T. Fiss, however, announced any bills still in the hands of the legislative reference bureau which could not be completed on time will be accepted.

The Senate received a proposal that the state Highway department take over eleven remaining toll bridges in Pennsylvania and convert them into free spans. Under a bill offered by Senator George N. Wade (R-Cumberland), a $10,000,000 appropriation from the motor fund would be used.

Other House Bills
Other bills introduced in House would:

Extend the Civil Service law to officials and employees of all state-operated hospitals and institutions.

Require county controllers to audit records of all aldermen and justices of the peace at least once a year.

Abolish school taxes on real estate except for interest payment and school building maintenance.

Change the time for local option referendum on liquor from primary to municipal election dates.

Legalize slot machines and provide license fees ranging from $100 for the 5-cent variety to $300 for the 25-cent type.

Reapportion senatorial districts. Reshuffle legislative districts.

Eliminate clubs from liquor quota law and increase club license fees from a flat $50 to $150 to $600 based on population.

Reduce lawful rate of interest from six to four per cent.

MOTORISTS ARE TOP CASUALTIES ON HOME FRONT

New York—No. 1 civilian casualty of the war year 1942 was the American motorist, whose driving so mixed pleasure and business that the problem of cutting down to essential car use gave war administrators their biggest headaches.

The year was a parade of increasingly severe restrictions from the ban on sales of new tires shortly after Pearl Harbor to nationwide gasoline rationing—mileage rationing, to save rubber—early this month.

Main Reason—Rubber
Rubber was the chief reason. When the Japanese surged through Malaya, overran Singapore and spread out into the Dutch East Indies, they seized the sources of 90 per cent of the rubber supplies of the United States and her allies.

America was caught short and the reason why still is being argued. The plain fact was that none had expected an invasion of such speed.

Tire Warning
Whatever the reason, motorists were warned early in the year, at about the same time the manufacture of automobiles ceased, that the tires they had would have to last "until Victory."

By early May important government officials called the rubber situation "perilous," and the Truman Senate committee urged national gasoline rationing and said seizure of tires might be essential later.

In June Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson said the army faced a shortage of 200,000 tons of rubber in 1943. But that same month it was predicted ways would be found to keep 20,000,000 of the nation's 27,000,000 cars rolling. A collection of scrap rubber was ordered by President Roosevelt.

Then in July the rubber industry proposed to provide tires for all, using reclaimed rubber chiefly.

Final Report Made
Displeased with the scrap collection, President Roosevelt in August told elder statesman Bernard Baruch to "get the facts" about rubber.

A few weeks later Baruch, who worked with technologists Karl Compton and James B. Conant, reported:

"We find the existing situation to be so dangerous that unless corrective measures are taken immediately this country will face both a military and civilian collapse."

That settled much of the controversy and spelled doom for any remaining driving as usual (the eastern states by then were veterans of gas rationing, brought on by a shortage of transportation for oil).

Baruch's figures showed a crude rubber stockpile of 578,000 tons on July 1, estimated imports from then until Jan. 1, 1944, would total only 53,000 tons, and balance this against essential demand of 842,000 tons—allowing nothing for passenger car tires.

This left a deficit of 211,000 tons to be met from the small but growing synthetic rubber program of Buna, Butyl, Neoprene and Thiokol. This program aimed for an eventual output of 1,000,000 tons a year but would take until 1945.

Baruch recommended a 35-mile-an-hour speed limit, strict tire inspection and national gasoline rationing, plus an increased synthetic rubber program.

The speed limit and a ban on retail sales of used tires went into effect Oct. 1; gasoline, or mileage rationing on a national basis Dec. 1; motorists were required to turn in all tires over five per car by Dec. 12, and submit the rest to inspection.

But the synthetic rubber plants to fill the deficit still were a worry this month.

William Jeffers, railroader named rubber director by the President, indicated the program was behind schedule because strategic materials needed for it were going to even more vital war uses.

FULL ACCORD AMONG ALLIES IMPORTANT NOW

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The absolute necessity of maintaining complete understanding among the important Allied governments (which means a full exchange information), as emphasized yesterday by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, becomes clear when one gets outside the orbit of Anglo-American agreement.

Geography, and other even more vital factors, have put the remaining members of the Big Four—Russia and China—rather far afield. It is perhaps natural that at times they should view the war obelisk from different sides.

Thus we have Vice President Wallace expressing the grave concern that "unless the western democracies and Russia come to a satisfactory understanding before this war ends, I very much fear that World War No. 3 will be inevitable." And China is beset with many doubts, as I reported from Bombay last January after visiting Chungking.

Not only in China but in India, and in smaller eastern countries, there is anxious speculation whether the war is going to demonstrate that east is east and west is west, and that the relationship between the two is going to be on this basis of aloofness. The Orient, which wants to regard the Atlantic Charter as the pillar of fire to lead it to a new world, is quietly expressing much uncertainty as to its real significance.

Fear U. S. Isolation
I was shocked to find the widespread fear that the charter may be designed only for the "white races" and that it doesn't apply to Asiatics. Some of the more suspicious minds even say they believe that Britain and America are planning to exploit the Orient after the war.

I encountered many queries along this line in the various capitals.

So far as the United States is concerned, there is no strong disposition to charge her with having ulterior motives. The query is being raised, however, whether she will have the tenacity to carry out the terms of the charter. A lot of people in the Orient are worrying for fear America will retire to isolation after the war and leave Asia to her own ruin.

But Britain and America aren't alone doubtful quantities from the Oriental standpoint. Russia also is suspect, though she remains an enigma to the east, as she does to many in the western world.

Full Information Needed
Now most of this doubt, and fear and suspicion is due to lack of understanding. When I was in Chungking a considerable number of publishers and other prominent newspaper men gave me a tea party at which they put me on the carpet for a grilling in regard to such searching questions as are cited above. They were anxious to get the truth, but it was clear that in many particulars they were far from having a correct picture of their western allies. They lacked the true facts.

Of course the uncertainties which

Chapter 13

Jim glanced at his wristwatch and stifled a yawn.

"I may be excused, I think I'll turn in," he said. "It's after ten and tomorrow will be a busy day aboard the Sea Bat."

After he had left the room Landa turned to Don.

"I think I should be going too. You know Maria waits up for me every night now since daddy's gone."

"I'll get the carriage," Don said. After he had gone, O'Shanessey took his pipe from his lips and through a cloud of blue smoke he said, "Landa girl, you and Don didn't set the wedding day tonight, did you?"

Landa's dark eyes met the old man's steady gaze.

"No, we didn't talk about it at all tonight."

O'Shanessey started to say more but just then Don came back into

A SOLDIER'S PRAYER

Now I lay me down to sleep
I pray the Lord my gun to keep
Please let no other soldier take
My socks or shoes before I wake.

Please keep me safely in the night
So I don't waken up in fright
And in the morning let me wake
Breathing scents of sirlin steak.

Spare me Lord from hikes and drills
And when sick don't feed me pills
Should I hurt this head of mine
Please paint it not with iodine.

Take me on into the land
Where they march without a band
Where no pesky bugles blow
And little women wash the clothes.

In a cozy feather bed
Their I long to lay my head
Far away from camping scenes
And the smell of half baked beans.

Dear Lord Thou knowest every care
Will You please listen to my prayer
Please hasten days of peace again
Dear calm and driftless Lord, Amen.
PVT. FRANCIS I. WEAVER
Gulfport, Mississippi

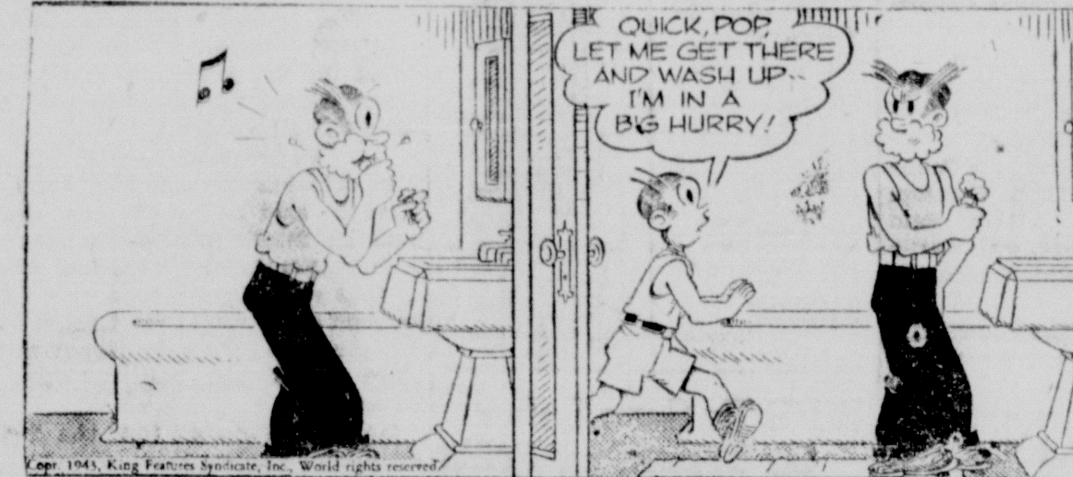

The common cold usually runs a definite course of from three to ten days.

In colonial America, the Puritans passed laws to keep shoes plain and inexpensive.

are troubling Allied minds aren't confined to post-war problems. We are reminded of that daily by the problems which grow out of questions of supply and grand strategy. Russia wants that second front, and China feels that she has been left out in the cold through the policy of making Hitler enemy number one.

Obviously then Mr. Hull is right in his view that a full exchange of information is necessary between the Allies. This would seem to be doubly true since there recently has arisen the delicate question of territorial readjustments after the war.

blown out the candles.
Landa leapt from her bed next morning and flew into the slack suit that Maria had laid carefully on the chair. She dashed cold water on her face and ran a brush quickly through her rumpled hair. In five minutes she was walking rapidly up the winding road that led to O'Shanessey Castle.

When Jose swung open the heavy front door she swept past him and went directly to the dining hall where she could hear the rumble of voices. The three men got quickly to their feet when they saw her in the doorway.

"Well, this is a happy surprise!" O'Shanessey called out.

Landa hurried to him smiling. In a voice she struggled to keep calm, she asked, "Where is that letter my father gave to you?"

For an instant the old Irishman's face went blank. Then he boomed indignantly, "Letter? What letter?"

"The letter he gave you to give to me. Maria heard him telling you about it."

For the first time in her life, Landa saw confusion in the choleric flush that darkened O'Shanessey's face. "Oh, she did, did she?" he muttered.

"Yes," Landa was staring at him in bewilderment. "You—remember it, now, don't you?"

He grasped at this in broad relief. "Yes, I remember it now!" he rumbled. "I had forgotten all about it—slipped my mind completely. Don't even recall where I put it. Have to look it up. Do it tonight."

He was not telling her the truth. He had never intended to give her the letter. With the clarity of a night mare, Landa knew it—knew he would have denied the whole thing but for Maria. She stood there rigid and stunned from the shock of it. Uncle Mike—whom she had always trusted exactly as she had trusted her father.

Dully she noticed Jose shuffling into the room with Cass Wilson behind him, heard Cass reporting to Jim of trouble with the Sea Bat's engine.

Bomb Damage In Nuernberg

This 15th century building, known as the Albrecht Durer House and once the home of the German artist and engraver and later a museum, was wrecked by a bomb in a RAF raid on Nuernberg, Germany. The RAF delivered two damaging raids on Nuernberg, one Feb. 25 and the other March 8. This picture was radioed from Stockholm to New York.

INCOME TAX UP TWINS' DADDY
50 PC. IN STATE MAY GO TO WAR
OVER LAST YEAR

Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—A vastly enlarged army of Pennsylvania income tax payers poured about $157,000,000 into the government's win-the-war chest before the deadline last midnight for filing 1942 income tax returns, a survey of the three Internal Revenue Bureau offices in Pennsylvania showed today.

The sum amounted to almost 50 per cent more than was paid before the deadline last year.

Even these figures did not accurately represent the magnitude of the tax, however, for hundreds of thousands who last year paid their full tax before March 15 paid only the first quarterly installment this year.

Increase This Year

In Philadelphia, Walter J. Rothensies, collector for the 23-county eastern Pennsylvania district, reported receiving $90,000,000 during the last two weeks—$60,000,000 on the final day alone and 50 per cent more than the $60,000,000 paid during the first two weeks of March, 1942.

Approximately 1,500,000 returns already had been filed and Rothensies said the total may reach 1,700,000. Last year the number was 1,178,000.

In Scranton, Joseph T. McDonald, collector for the 20 northeastern counties, reported collections of $43,755,316.59, compared with $27,875,766.90 on the same day last year. About 400,000 returns were filed in his district, he said.

Future Installments

In Pittsburgh, collector Stanley Granger said $23,531,823 had been paid by 213,000 persons, compared with $21,330,189 by 177,400 last year.

"Last year's figures represented 90 per cent of our total collections, while this year we've got more money with three installments still to come," he said.

Granger estimated that the total number of western Pennsylvania returns may reach 1,200,000, compared with 900,000 last year.

Scranton reported the largest single bank deposit in the history of the 12th Internal Revenue district—totaling $39,000,000, representing partial tax payments.

In a recent article in Dun's Review, Cooney estimated that 5,500,000 workers could be released for war jobs if simplification and standardization were extended throughout American industry.

Secretary Morgenthau
FAVORS BANK CREDIT FOR FARMERS

In a recent press conference, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said that it was "reasonable and right" that banks should have the first chance in their communities to make farm loans.

We know the farmers of this territory and we have ample funds which we can lend at moderate rates without government red tape.

Bank at home, trade at home, and BORROW AT HOME.

Has Shoe Rationing FRIGHTENED YOU
INTO PAYING HIGH PRICES
FOR YOUR SHOES?

There is no reason for this kind of thinking . . . for we are told that the sole leather used in our shoes is the best quality permitted by government regulations, and is the best available for civilian use. If this is true (and we believe it is) you can not buy better wearing soles, regardless of price.

We want all of our customers and friends who have worn PARIS FASHION and CONNIE Shoes for years to know this, and also that the same wearing qualities in the soles of our shoes are still there, and that you can expect as much wear from them as you would from shoes costing perhaps two or three times as much.

We believe that three pairs of our shoes will last you as well as any other three pairs you can buy and at the same time, you will save many dollars.

Use your No. 17 coupon wisely! Choose these nationally advertised, nationally known shoes that for years have been recognized as America's greatest shoe values.

WPB To Save Labor
By Trimming Frills

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Offered partly as a means of freeing more manpower for war work, a program for standardizing designs and ruthlessly trimming unnecessary frills from both civilian and military goods has been submitted to the War Production Board.

The plan was developed by WPB's recently reorganized conservation division, headed by Howard Conoley.
